Overview:

Budgeting is an integral part of most management decisions. Whether the decision is to start or end a program, hire, fire, or promote employees, purchase or sell items, or to improve client services, managers must weigh a decision's budget implications. Budgeting is the cornerstone of management and government performance. This course provides managers with a basic understanding of the budgetary process as well as understanding the fundamentals of the statutory framework that agencies must work within as they strive to sustain their core services.

Objectives:

- Develop an understanding of the importance of budgeting in public management and policy making
- Understand the paths to the public budget
- Develop an understanding of the major budgeting functions
- Develop an understanding of budget implementation
